

Liberty Common School

Pay for Performance

BY CASEY CHURCHILL

Objective

- The objective of Liberty's teacher Pay for Performance program is to encourage continuous improvement and high levels of teacher performance.

Goal

- The goal is to deliver the mission of Liberty Common School - to provide excellence and fairness in education through a common foundation. This is achieved by successfully teaching a contextual body of organized knowledge (using a core knowledge curriculum), the values of a democratic society, and the skills of learning.

Teacher performance is evaluated each school year using input from these sources:

- Informal evaluation – Common referred to as “drive-by evaluations.” The principal drops by a class unannounced and informally evaluates the lesson. The principal and teacher meet to discuss this evaluation after it occurs.

Teacher performance is evaluated each school year using input from these sources:

- Peer Observations – Each teacher will be observed by their mentor teachers and two other teachers throughout the year. The observing teacher provides feedback to the teacher who was observed.

Peer Observations

2014-2015 Peer Observation Group

Objective: Teachers will observe other teachers with similar and varying backgrounds so that they can first and foremost gain from their expertise. The more we see what others are doing the more we grow as a school. Secondly, as colleagues, we can also use this time to help point out areas of improvement.

Below are the observation groups for the year. You are expected to observe 3 teachers as a team throughout the year and 1 teacher independently of your choice. Teams will observe grades above and below. Arrange to observe a head of time with the teachers listed below and coordinate with your grade level team to observe at the same time. Please choose one of the two observation summary forms below and fill out while observing. When done, meet as a team with the person you observed to discuss notes taken. Give a copy to your peer being observed and to Casey.

Teacher performance is evaluated each school year using input from these sources:

- Professional Goals and Development – Each teacher establishes and works toward achieving three professional goals and one team goal throughout the year. If a goal is achieved, it will be replaced with a new one.

Teacher performance is evaluated each school year using input from these sources:

- Student performance data analysis – All appropriate teachers provide analysis of state performance tests and NWEA MAPS tests. The teachers identify potential knowledge deficits with the children and potential educational shortcomings with our content.

Data Analysis

TCAP Analysis – August 20, 2013

Liberty Common 6th Grade

by Rob Huey, Shannon Canfield, and Devin Ricketts

Introduction

The following is an analysis of the 2012-2013 TCAP scores in the areas of mathematics, reading, and writing. This report will look at the results from the tests, analysis in each academic area, and initiatives that will be put into place to raise scores.

Reading

Proficiency Results

Advanced – 34% Proficient – 66%

Total advanced or proficient – 100%

Partially Proficient – 0% Unsatisfactory - 0%

Gains and Losses

Gains

- 5 students with a gain of more than or equal to 50.
- 12 students moved up one or more proficiency levels.

Losses

- 19 students had a negative scale score difference.
- 3 students moved back one or more proficiency levels.

Skill Results by Student

What is the student count for each skill area of students not making benchmark?

- Fiction and Poetry 2 Students
- Non Fiction 1 Students
- Vocabulary 6 Students

Longitudinal Analysis:

Year	At or Above Proficiency	Below Standard
2009-2010	100 %	0 %
2010-2011	98 %	2 %
2011-2012	98 %	2 %
2012-2013	100 %	0 %

Analysis

Vocabulary showed the largest number of students below benchmark (partially proficient). With a 100% proficient and advance score (in this database), our reading program appears to be strong.

Initiatives

We will look at our vocabulary program, which focuses on Caesar's English for the first half of the school and then it's just in-context vocabulary during the second half of the school year. With this in mind, we are considering keeping review assignments/quizzes on vocabulary throughout the second semester.

In addition, we will look at revising some of our reading assessments this year, where we will also incorporate vocabulary.

• Students Needing Additional Help Due to Scores of Proficient/Low or Partial Proficient & Initiatives Taken:

All students scored in the provided database proficient or advanced in math, however, the following three students scored on the lower range of the proficient category:

[REDACTED] – was on a Tier 2 plan all throughout 6th grade; she made progress and was removed from a Tier 2 last year. She should be a “eye” student and add interventions later, only if needed.

[REDACTED] – was on a Tier 2 plan all school year. She struggled with math and to continue on a Tier 2.

[REDACTED] – was a Tier 1 student last year. He did Read Naturally for extra time and should continue to get Tier 1 help in 7th grade.

Teacher performance is evaluated each school year using input from these sources:

- Accomplishments – This is also called the “brag sheet”. We want to know all the things that the teacher has done above and beyond the call of duty for the students and for our school. An example of this would be volunteering to serve on a school committee or attending the piano recital of a student in his/her class.

Now what?

Using this information, each teacher's performance is assessed in the following categories (this description includes three examples within each category):

Performance Categories

Content Knowledge

- ✦ Demonstrates knowledge of topics for which the teacher is responsible, including Core Knowledge
- ✦ Relates knowledge to prior student knowledge
- ✦ Communicates relevant applications of the subject matter

Performance Categories

Designing, Planning, Documentation and Assessment of Work

- ✦ Creates curriculum maps that are complete and effective
- ✦ Demonstrates a variety of teaching methods appropriate to different situations
- ✦ Makes effective use of data from standardized tests

Performance Categories

Pedagogy, Instruction, and Delivery

- ✦ Effectively stimulates the natural curiosity of students
- ✦ Integrates the Thinking Framework in lessons
- ✦ Assesses effectiveness of if instruction and delivery methods, use of class time and pace of delivery

Performance Categories

Classroom Management

- ✦ Effectively establishes his or her authority in the classroom
- ✦ Use respect rather than fear in classroom management
- ✦ Creates an environment conducive to learning with appropriate pace

Performance Categories

Supplemental Responsibilities

- ✦ Demonstrates effective teamwork with other staff
- ✦ Initiates improvements in school-wide and classroom-specific issues
- ✦ Demonstrates versatility and flexibility to meet changing needs within the Liberty environment

Each teacher is then rated on scale of 1 to 4 within each performance category.

- The definitions of these ratings are:

4 = Meets and exceeds expectations

3 = Meets expectations

2 = Meets most expectations, but has some room for growth

1 = Meets some of the expectations, but has room for substantial growth (this is often new or first year teachers).

New Teachers

- Bands 1 and 2 are typically for new employees who are developing their skills and building sustained results. The maximum they can stay in bands 1 and 2 before demonstrating improved and sustained performance and move to band 3 is three years. Established employees whose performance has fallen below acceptable levels into band 1 or 2 go on Probation. They are expected to improve their performance and return to band 3 or higher within one year or else risk termination.

Per Pupil Rate

- We fund the schedule based off of the PPR increase each year. For example, a PPR increase of 3%, will fund the salary increases in our salary schedule.

Bonuses?

- In years when the schools future revenue forecast allows it, salary increases may be given. In years when future revenue is lean, in lieu of salary increases, performance pay bonuses may be given if the current year operating budget allows. For either case, a teacher's performance band ranking and current salary with the range are used to determine the size of the increase or bonus.
